- 1. Start up for python Language
  - 1. Installation of python
  - 2. What editors are required to use in python
- 2. About Python
  - 1. History
  - 2. Comparison of py with another language
  - 3. Versions of python
  - 4. Indentation
  - 5. Continuation lines
  - 6. Command line interface coding
- 7. Writing python scripts in a file and running it in the command line interface.
  - 8. Commenting in python
  - 9. Debugging the code
  - 10. Print function
- 3. Escape sequences
  - 1. \n Newline
  - 2. \r Return
  - 3. \b Backspace

  - 4. \\ Backslash
    5. \" Double quote
    6. \' Single quote

  - 7. \t Tab
  - 8. \a Alarm
- 4. Data Types
  - 1. Integers
  - 2. Floating point
  - 3. Complex
  - 4. String
  - 5. bool
- 5. User Input
  - 1. Input function
  - 2. Command line parameters
- 6. Operators
  - 1. Numeric
  - 2. Comparison
  - Identity
  - 4. Membership
  - 5. Assignment
  - 6. Logical
- 7. Conditional statements
  - 1. If
  - 2. If else
  - 3. Nested If elif else
- 8. Loops
  - 1. While
  - 2. for
- 9. Lists
  - 1. Read
  - 2. Write
  - 3. delete

- 10. Tuples
- 11. Dictionaries
- 12. Functions
- 13. File Handling
- 14. Exception Handling
- 15. Modules
- 16. Namespace
- 17. Packages
- 18. Built in tools